'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND

Bandits had better take warning from that little incident on the Dumbarton bridge and not offer drinks to any of their victims. A bandit held up two men on the bridge recently and gave them a drink. When the liquor started working the victims decided the bandit hadn't treated them right so they beat him up, tied him with tire chains and delivered him to the sheriff. Must have been the kind of stuff that makes a rabbit chase a bulldog.

Compulsory education as practiced in this state is a laudible thing but when it comes to sending a 17-year-old wife to school just because she hasn't lived up to a technicality, it's another thing.

And while someone here is sound asleep Vallejo has stolen a march on Richmond. Our northern neighbors now fly over our heads and are closer to San Francisco than we are by a matter of about 30 minutes.

It might also be well to keep in mind that Richmond had the first airport in the East bay region but for some unknown reason decided that she didn't want to be a modern wide-awake city in that respect.

We wonder if it is to be a general practice for prosecutors to tell a judge what they think should be done with a case. Somehow we have always thought that a judge should be beyond instruction other than those he finds in the adopted laws of the nation, state and city.

The times near or maybe it is here already, and we are all set to hear all kinds of stories about rattlers killed on camping trips. However, we sound a warning to all those who would have us believe without question of a doubt, that they bring along the rattlers to prove their story.

There may have been a time when Alameda county court house was the pride and joy of every citizen in the county. It's a different story today, however. Practically everyone in the county seems to be trying to prove that the county's official home is a terrible old shack and should be replaced immediately.

Dresses may be longer, remember we said "may", but bathing suits are to be shorter—if possible this year, according to advices from the fashion centers.

Some of them may be true but if all the rumors regarding the new 70rd plant here were laid end to end we would probably have about 10 automobile plants instead of one. Maybe we will have 10 in the not far distant future.

Some of the pessimists who have been yelling themselves hoarse about the Richmond waterfront should take a trip down in that direction in the near future.

Indian Revolt Gains Volunteers

BOMBAY, March 28.—UP—Hundreds of volunteers were enlisting today in a plan of Indian Nationalists to make salt illegally at Juhu, favorite sea bathing resort of Europeans ten miles from here. The salt production, in defiance of the British government's monopoly, is scheduled for April 6, the same day on which Mahatma Gandhi expects to defy the salt ban at Jalapour and a group of Poona volunteers plan similar action at Villa Parle.

TRUSTEES TO TAKE POST MAY 1

Ralph Bergen and Dr. W. E. Cunningham were reelected members of the Union high school board of trustees yesterday in one of the closest high school district elections ever held in Richmond.

A. A. Hughes, Richmond grocer and a war veteran ran both incumbents a close race.

Dr. Cunningham polled the highest number of votes, 543; Bergen second with 504 while Hughes polled 477.

Hughes carried five precincts, the West Side, with 97; Grant, 63; Fairmont 75, Sheldon 13, and Kensington, 10.

The consolidated west Richmond precinct registered the largest number of votes cast, 125.

Bergen and Dr. Cunningham will take office May 1 at a meeting of the trustees. At that time the votes will be canvassed.

Other members of the board are Aubrey Wilson, president; J. P. Strom, and E. M. Downer.

During the coming week members of the Community Chest committee will interview leaders of Richmond industries to get their reactions as to a Community Chest drive here in the summer.

The members of the committee will report back at a committee meeting to be held next Wednesday afternoon.

At a recent dinner meeting in the Hotel Carquinez representatives of civic, fraternal, service and welfare clubs, lodges and organizations were present and declared themselves in favor of a chest drive here.

The proposition is being thoroughly studied by the committee which includes T. H. DeLap, Salvation Army; Frank Chandler, Kiwanis club; Clyde Parker, Y. M. C. A.; Aubrey Wilson, Boy Scouts and Mrs. W. H. Sanford, Business and Professional Women's club.

Scout Group To Install Heads

Get Ready To Assist In Census

It is essential that every citizen cooperate if Richmond is to have an accurate census next month.

Under ideal conditions the taking of the census will be a hard thing.

In view of the fact that only two weeks are allowed for the taking of the census it is essential that every citizen speed the enumerators along.

If you will make a study of the charts appearing on page four of the RECORD-HERALD this morning you will be able to materially aid the census. Cut out these charts, study them over when the family is together and fill out the blank that is provided.

In this manner you will have all of the questions ready for the enumerator when he appears on the scene.

FIRE RAZES FOX THEATER AT VALLEJO

VALLEJO, Mar. 28.—(UP)—Fire destroyed the Fox Vallejo theater here tonight, starting a short time after the matinee audience of several hundred people had left the building.

The flames spread rapidly and it was regarded fortunate that the audience had left the theater.

Loss was estimated at more than $50,000. An entire block was threatened for a time but three volunteer fire departments and fire fighters from the Mare Island Navy yard near here prevented it from spreading. One fireman, Freeman S. Weeks, was injured and taken to a hospital.

Soap Firm Buys Southern Site

CINCINNATI, March 28.—Exercising its option on Long Beach property, Procter and Gamble company is planning to use the land to erect a Pacific coast plant for the manufacture of edible products.

It was announced some time ago that plans for erecting the plant on the Richmond property held by the company had fallen through and it is understood that the land is now for sale.

The amount involved for the purchase was not revealed, although it is known that the company has set aside $5,000,000 for the completion of the Pacific coast unit.

The coast plant will receive some of its raw material from the company's crushing and refining mills to be established in the Imperial valley at a cost of $1,000,000.

WARRANTS ISSUED BY COURT

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—UP—Three years after the crash of the Julian Petroleum corporation thru a stock overissue, the Los Angeles county grand jury today returned two indictments charging 40 prominent local men with conspiracy to commit suzury.

The true bills were secret but it was believed that they grew out of two gigantic pools thru which many wealthy local men loaned money to the financially failing company and assertedly charged a usurious rate of interest.

Bench warrants for those named were prepared immediately by a superior court clerk and were turned over to the sheriff's office. Many attorneys were in the court room when the grand jurors returned their secret indictment. In the hours that followed the arranged bonds for the clients they believed had been named.

There will be no session of court Saturday and while some of those indicted may be taken into custody then they probably will be released immediately upon posting $5000 bond each. District Attorney Byron Fitts told Judge Walton Wood that "all those indicted are not in this country."

The boy's mother discovered him unconscious in the yard and summoned help. The boy was in a critical condition at a local hospital.

STANDARD FIXTURE CO. TO DOUBLE PLANT

BUILDING TO BE STARTED MONDAY

Another addition to industrial Richmond was revealed yesterday with the filing of plans in the Builders' Inspector office by the Standard Fixture company for an addition to its plant. Although a 75 by 100 addition which will cost approximately $12,000 is planned by the company, only one unit 25 by 110 feet will be built at the present time.

Construction of the new addition to cost about $4000 is to be started Monday morning if preliminary arrangements can be completed by that time according to officials of the company.

The Standard Fixture company of which J. F. Galloway is the president, manufactures store fixtures. Demand for the company's product has necessitated the doubling of the plant according to Galloway. Work will be rushed on the addition to take care of the increased demands on the company.

The new structure is to be built on Eighth street between the Santa Fe right of way and Chanslor avenue. It is to be of brick and steel frame construction and will be one story in height.

Ray F. De Sano is the architect.

How Many Girls Want to Teach?

TO THE army of women now engaged in the profession of teaching, a big new detachment of recruits will be added in another two months, when the colleges and training schools turn out the Class of 1930. On the heels of this realization comes the announcement just made by Dr. Harry Dexter Kilton, psychologist at Teachers College, that in his survey to find out whether workers are satisfied with their jobs, only nineteen per cent. of teachers report maximum interest in their work. Such a finding raises anew the question of how many girls really want to teach—and how many girls would be better off doing something else—say nothing of their young charges!

To be sure, Dr. Kilton's test of maximum interest in work is drastic. "Would you," he inquires, in effect, "do your job if you had $1,000,000 and were not obliged to work?" Well, on first impulse, would any of us, suddenly endowed with a million, do any job at all—teaching, plumbing, cooking, typing, columnizing? Has anybody a maximum interest in his work equal to his maximum interest in no work at all?

Nevertheless, among the persons examined by Dr. Kilton, a percentage of measuring comparative interest in jobs shows that nearly twice as many trained nurses as teachers feel maximum interest in their work. It reminds many a woman of the wall she has heard from a "Oh, I suppose I'll teach—there's nothing else!"

It is true that the girl who goes to college to be a teacher, and then, after a year or two, finds herself in a position to do something else, is not the only sufferer.

Furnishing the Room Without Wall Space

Dear Miss Zais:

I would very much appreciate if you would help me solve my dining room problem. To me the room seems to have only windows and doors. All I have is a Chinese rug—gold background—very grand piano with bench and radio in a cabinet, 4 feet 6 inches tall. I am at a loss just where to place my piano. Although it is a small size, it seems to crowd into the center of the room too much. What do you advise by way of ornament on the piano? The entrance to the room is from the dining room, which I have done in red with green hangings. Directly opposite the entrance are four windows, covering the entire width of the room. The walls are painted buff, and the French doors to the right of the entrance lead to the sun parlor. I would like to buy a sofa and two or three comfortable chairs, also a coffee table. (Mrs.) L. G. C.

WE CAN quite appreciate Mrs. C's dismay as she contemplates equipping this room with the many doors and windows. But nevertheless, we see plenty of space for her piano and radio, plus a six-foot sofa, two stuffed chairs, an open-arm chair, a slant-top desk and chair, a sofa table with drop ends, a stool, nest, tip-top and coffee tables and a screen. An examination of the scaled diagram will show that these pieces group themselves very naturally around the room.

The gold Chinese rug probably has blue in the design, and thus blue wool damask would be the best fabric for the covering of the sofa. A good treatment for the windows would be: Four pairs of glass curtains for the end windows; three pairs for the side windows. Material to be of gold-colored cotton voile or celanese, or beige pongee (which will be taken room a bit). Overcurtains. One pair and a simple long valance for each of the two groups of windows. Material to be chintz having an English pattern on a soft blue or a gold background. Overstuffed chair No. 1 may be slip-covered with the chintz; chair No. 2 covered with gold antique satin. Chair No. 3 in soft Venetian red, or if violet is found in the chintz design, it would be very pretty to bring that color down to this chair. Antique brocade for the stool before the table; the desk chair seat in gold antique satin.

A beautiful vase or a lamp may be used on the piano. If desired, and we should like to see the side lights in this room removed to make room for pictures, without which no decorative scheme is quite complete. Let the light come from table and floor lamps.

In carrying out this scheme Mrs. C. should remember that if the green curtains in the dining room clash with the living room scheme, she should change the curtains. Or, if the living room rug does not show definite Chinese blues in the pattern, a blue-green damask for the sofa would probably harmonize with both schemes.

Dear Miss Zais:

I notice that several times you have said not to buy a three-piece set of sofa and two matching chairs for living rooms, and now I am planning to get new pieces for my room. I would like to have you tell me what I should be best to get. The set I have had is so big and thick I will be glad to get rid of it.

I saw two rather modern chairs I liked. One was much like a Tuxedo, only not so square, and the other had a slightly curved back, but there was no sofa to match either one. Would it be safe to get them, and if so, would a Lawson sofa do? My room is not modern. In fact, it is not anything in particular, so perhaps it would be best to get the conventional thing after all. The walls in this room are a nice beige, carpet brown, and I can get new draperies, if necessary. I have plain bookshelves (open), two end tables, one magazine stand and a grand piano outside of the three new pieces—but all I will trouble you to answer now is the question about the sofa and chairs. I would like to get them before housecleaning time, so if you can please enter soon I will appreciate it. (MRS.) E. A. Y.

Choose Designs That Harmonize Without Matching

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930

TRY as hard as we may, we shall never be quite rid of the feeling that the very foundation of the living room rests upon pieces of three. Those all-important items—

PROBLEM NO. 1

the outstanding element of design, of color, of room—and we would do without them. We have discovered to have the three pieces distinctly related is much more interesting than to insist that they belong to the same family. And the more modern the room the more certain we are to find this point observed. To-day, instead of rows of matching furniture, we usually find in the better stores an interesting grouping of chairs and sofas that harmonizes. All that seems to be asked of the former set is that its three members be comparative in size, harmonious in color and design.

Such a sofa as the one illustrated (a design you will find discussed in our Home Modernization Booklet, "Good Furniture—Old and New") would doubtless prove an interesting companion for the two modern chairs Mrs. Y. describes. It is an excellent example of design that is sound, and therefore enduring. Here there are no exaggerated lines, no bizarre upholstery to bore us in a short time. On the contrary, quite as much comfort and grace and simplicity are expressed by this thoroughly modern piece as we may find in the loveliest of the old furniture.

Mrs. Y. did not submit a floor plan, but her brief description indicates a fairly good background for conservative modern pieces. Plain open bookshelves fit splendidly into the modern scheme, and would be smartly accented by a stepped wall shelf similar to the one shown behind the sofa in the photograph.

Against her beige walls and plain brown carpet, Mrs. Y. may develop a very pleasing color scheme in the brown, orange and beige tones, with a strong note of blue-green for contrast. The sofa could be upholstered in one of the modern fabrics having a pattern in varying shades of beige. The design of the illustration—and covered with different shades of beige and one in a beige and blue-green—would be very smart. Rich blue-green, and ivory tones, and by pottery, and small accessories, a bench might have a loose velvet cushion of blue-green. For new overcurtains Mrs. Y. will find any number of smart modern fabrics from which to choose colors and patterns in keeping with her scheme.

For every room and every scheme, of course, the choice of important new pieces will be slightly different. Where one may wish to introduce the modern note, another will feel drawn to period styles in keeping with certain cherished old pieces, a third will prefer conventional types that can be used in any room. But these variations in taste do not in the least disturb our good principle of selection, which may be expressed in a half-dozen words—choose designs that harmonize without matching.

The Farmer's Advice

By Alfalfa Smith

ALMOST forgot to tell you about a man who started a business out in New Jersey some years ago. He put $50,000 into the business and had a model place.

Soon he began to put in systems. He started buying magazines and every time he found a new system, he put it in until the place was a mass of reading matter and a host of systems.

He lasted six months and then the Sheriff took hold, but the Sheriff did not have any magazines or systems.

Magazines and systems are O. K., but they are a means to an end. BUSINESS COMES FIRST.

Drown-Toned Gloves

MAUVE-BROWN suede gloves are very smart for wear with blue fox if the fur accessory is in a matching shade. This is a lovely time with the same outspoken sort of chic that made the black glove such a smart gesture. The brown glove is slip-on of pliant studs.

EVER try to find a card, a key or a coin purse in the handbag at night... with no light but the stars above... on a rainy evening when there's not even a twinkle in the sky? Not so easy. To say nothing about lost keyholes. But of course one doesn't mention keyholes of that type to ladies... although why not in this equal day?

Whether the topic is discussed or not is beside the question, however. The important point is that fashion has found a remedy... a smart little vest-pocket flashlight no larger than a fountain pen, with the metal clip and all in just the right place to flap over the inner lining of the handbag... or the vest pocket... according to the gender of the wearer.

To flash the light one presses gently on the little ball at the base of the clip... and on comes an amazingly bright light for so small a bulb. This accessory comes in ivory, nickel, or a smart green finish, and has so caught the fancy that one sees it in shops of all sorts.

Evening Handkerchiefs

Chiffon squares are now as large as forty inches. They may be carried as handkerchiefs or may be worn as scarves. But they are not bizarre, rather show dainty floral designs. Pink is especially favored.

"WHERE are your gills, Dad?" "My gills! I don't have any gills."

"Haven't you any gills?" "Certainly not! Only fish have gills."

"Aren't you a poor fish?" "A poor fish! Say, young man, are you trying to be impudent?" "No, but Uncle Bob was telling Ma about you, and he said, 'Last night the poor fish was stewed to the gills.' I want to see your gills, Dad."

"Oh, go to bed."

A DISH A DAY

By Nancy Dorris

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930

A way with the simple and low-priced foods in the markets and store means, as every intelligent woman knows, money in the pocket and freedom from worry over monthly bills. Realizing that even among quality foodstuffs what is plentiful is usually the canny consumer's choice, the canny consumer makes plans for her table from those waiting low to medium price tags.

March strawberries may look ever so tempting, but to the good shopper fine dried fruit looks even more tempting. The price of quality dried prunes, for example, and a knowledge of their cookery encourage her to use them instead of strawberries for dessert.

The dessert will be something different, naturally, and a rival for easy strawberry shortcake is nut-filled prunes in a lemon jelly topped with whipped cream.

PRUNE-NUT DAINY
Two dozen fine dried prunes
Warm water to cover
Simmering time about one hour
One package lemon jelly
Two cups boiling water
Six shelled walnuts
Twelve tablespoons whipped cream (optional)
Serving: six

Softening of the prunes and simmering until tender render this dried fruit most delectable. The natural sugar is cooked into the open and the thickened syrup results. No sugar is needed, and that fact is significant. Wash the quality prunes in lukewarm water, place in a dish and cover with lukewarm water. Let stand until plump, one to three hours, or even overnight. A thorough softening reduces the cooking time. Cover the dish and set over a simmering flame, or in the oven and cook gently until tender and the syrup thick. The time is about one hour. Cool in their juice.

Take the pit from each prune and in its stead place a half walnut meat. Press the edges of the prepared prunes together and arrange in a mold or individual molds.

Turn the lemon jelly into a shallow bowl and pour over the boiling water; stir until dissolved. Let cool and then pour carefully over the walnut-filled prunes in the mold or individual molds. Set in the icebox to become firm. At serving time unmold on dessert dishes and top with a puff of whipped cream, or serve plain.

Carefully cooked prunes stored in the icebox keep several days and facilitate the first course of breakfast; or filled with cream or cottage cheese and arranged on lettuce form a nourishing luncheon salad; or spiced become a relish for meats; or heated with beef heighten the pleasure of an oven dinner meat. Filled with tangy cheese, the prunes (well drained) add to the savory tray.

U. S. DODGES TREATY AT PARLEY

LONDON, March 28.—UP—Four new conditions were laid down today for American participation in any consultative pact drawn up at the Five-Power naval conference.

Caught between the French demand for a hard-and-fast political agreement and renewed opposition in the U. S. Senate to any form of consultative pact that might infer a security pledge, the American delegates were said on reliable authority to have taken the following position:

They have no intention of entering any consultative treaty drafted along the lines of the four-power Pacific pact of 1921.

No Part

Any consultative pact resulting from the conference will be severely restricted and will in no way entangle the United States in a military alliance with European powers.

Before such a pact can be discussed, the question of French security must be settled and France must reduce her tonnage figures low enough to make a five-power limitation agreement possible.

The United States has no intention of participating in a consultative pact unless there can be a full five-way limitation agreement.

In other words, the American delegates wish to be able to tell the United States Senate, when the question of ratifying the naval treaty arises:

"Here is a naval limitation treaty signed by all five powers, that will save the American taxpayers millions of dollars and prevent a naval building race. In order to get it we had to agree to consult with the other powers in case war was threatened. In ratifying the treaty you will not be committing the United States to defend France or Great Britain or any other country."

It was learned from American sources that the United States' obligations under the Pacific pact are greater than it is willing to assume in connection with European troubles. The pact provides for consultation looking toward united or separate action in case the signatories' interests in the Pacific are menaced by war.

It was also learned that the American delegation has not yet been asked by any power to enter any form of a consultative pact and while admittedly the Americans are discussing it among themselves its scope has not been the subject of conversations with other powers.

SHANGHAI LADY OPENS HERE TODAY

It is no wonder that Shanghai has become one of the storied spots of the world when such pictures as "Shanghai Lady," which opens today at the Fox-California theater, are made with such a background. It is a talking picture.

It is likewise no wonder that Mary Nolan, whose blonde beauty and dramatic ability made her one of America's foremost screen attractions in silent pictures, should overshadow even herself when the personality of her voice is added in a sound film.

"Shanghai Lady" is distinguished by two outstanding creations — the characterization of Cassie Cook played by Miss Nolan, and the Oriental atmosphere of the entire film. Both are just about as near perfection as it is possible to get.

As the white girl "hostess" who somehow has drifted to the Far East, there to "entertain" the habits of Madame Polly Voo's "room," Miss Nolan is superb. Superb in the toughness of the "wise girl" looking out for herself at the cross-roads of the world; superb, too, in the softer moments when she discovers herself to be in love with another delirious like herself.

The story, taken from the stage success by John Colton, is unique, fast moving and dramatic. Packed with comedy and laughs, in each laugh there nevertheless is the tenseness of the drama beneath it. Two bits of flotsam who somehow wound up on the China coast, two human bits of wreckage — until they met each other.

James Murray, as the white who has lost caste even in the eyes of the native until his love for the girl whom he believes to be "refined" restores his self respect, could scarcely be better cast. Specie mention, too, is due Wheeler Oakman, the half-caste "heavy" Lydia Yeamans Titus as Polly Voo, Anders Randolph as the mandarin, and many others who have important roles.

John Robertson, who has been making exceptional pictures for these many years past spreads himself most effectively with "Shanghai Lady." His entire Oriental atmosphere is most realistically entrancing, greatly enhanced by Hal Mohr's flawless photography.

C.C. TO SUPPORT BAY BARRIER MOVEMENT

The committee of 49, made up of chambers of commerce around the bay including Richmond, will support the movement for a bay barrier and will assist in the current campaign, according to announcement in Richmond yesterday.

At the solicitation of Mayor M. Newhall, president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, a committee of three is to be named from the committee of 49 to keep contact with the bay barrier movement and ascertain in what ways the group can be of assistance in the program to prevent infiltration of salt into the delta and destruction of industrial property along the Carquinez Straits.

This committee will be named by Newhall and E. B. Field, joint chairman of the committee of 49. It was announced yesterday, following a meeting of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, that San Francisco will be represented by H. W. Crozier, an engineer, at the bay barrier hearing before the Federal and State Water commission in Oakland April 8. This day will be given over entirely to a discussion of how the bay barrier fits into an coordinated water scheme for all northern California, and the Salt Water Barrier association is now preparing evidence to be submitted. On the committee are W. N. Sharkey of Martinez and C. W. Schaeffer of Pittsburg, president of the association.

There will be special meetings in San Francisco before the junior chamber of commerce April 1, and before the real estate board April 2, for a complete discussion of the barrier, it was announced by Schaeffer.

The rioting began Wednesday noon and was stopped last night after Missouri militiamen and special police had aided guards in clubbing prisoners into their cells. Eighty convicts, charged with being ringleaders of the trouble, were questioned today and Warden Leslie Rudolph announced tonight he would prepare charges against them.

Eighty others were hurt in the rioting, 12 of the most serious being confined in the penitentiary hospital. The guardsmen will remain at the penitentiary until authorities are completely in charge of the situation, said Henry S. Caulfield, announced.

HAYWARD NINE BEATS LOCAL HIGH

The varsity nine of Richmond union high school failed to break its jinx of the past few weeks last night when it was defeated 6 to 3 by the Hayward high school varsity squad at Hayward.

The real reason for Richmond's downfall in last night's contest at Hayward was the number of errors committed by the local boys. Ten errors were made by the local.

Gordon Lemon, Ivan Hill's new find, pitched a sensational game for the local team, allowing only three hits and three walks. It Lemon had been capably supported in yesterday's battle, the result would probably have been different.

Connor twirled a mediocre brand of ball for the Haywardsites, allowing ten hits and walking eight men.

Rosano received for Richmond high school, while Lundgren was behind the platter for the Hayward boys.

The local aggregation gathered its counters in the fifth, sixth, and ninth innings, while the Hayward athletes made their three in the fifth and three in the eighth. Richmond held its own during the first half of the contest. Lemon prevented any aspiring Hayward batter from getting to first until the fifth canto.

Viano was the big hitter of the day for Richmond, collecting both a homer and a triple. Rosano, Richmond catcher, also connected for a triple.

The local high school nine will again see action Tuesday afternoon when it tangles with the league leading Alameda squad on the First street diamond.

MCLARNIN WINS WITH BROKEN HAND

NEW YORK, March 28.—UP—With his dangerous right fist rendered partially useless in the first round, Jimmy McLarnin, baby faced Irishman, from Vancouver, B. C. battled courageously through ten rounds of furious fighting to win a unanimous decision from "Black Jack" Johnson San Francisco negro waterweight.

Almost blinded by the attack, McLarnin became reckless with punches and three times hit Thompson below the belt. Once Referee Jimmy Crowley momentarily halted the contest, telling McLarnin he would award the fight to Thompson if he did not keep his punches up.

Near the end of the fifth round in which Thompson split McLarnin's nose across the bridge and drove him around the ring, McLarnin look longingly at his corner for instructions. The Irish lad, however, recovered quickly between rounds and took four of the remaining five rounds, with the other even.

The strategy to be used tomorrow by the Richmond Soccer athletes in their clash with the Phoenix club in the league finals was planned at last night's meeting of the local soccer club.

An extra strong lineup will probably be placed on the playing field Sunday by the Richmond Soccer club in opposition to the sensational Phoenix club boys. Jester, goal keeper, is expected to bear a large share of the responsibility for Richmond in tomorrow's clash for the local territory will probably be in grave danger of the celebrated Phoenix attack.

The game will be played at the Oakland Trotting park at 1 o'clock

Impromptu Track Meet Closes At Richmond High

The two day impromptu track meet between members of the Richmond high school track team ended yesterday afternoon.

The majority of yesterday's events were run by members of the B team. The varsity had their big day Thursday.

Elton Armstrong set a fast pace to win the 300 yard dash yesterday. Cecil Bowman captured first place in the 220 yard run. In the half mile event, Joe Robak crossed the tape in first place. Snodgrass won the honors in the low hurdles, closely followed by Johnny Garside. In the varsity 100 yard high hurdles, Ed Palmer placed first, while Jack McLennan crossed the tape in second position.

The two day meet that concluded yesterday at the local high school brought to light some strong material for this year's competition in track events.

In the varsity events, boys such as Masek, Dalton, Albert, Bowman, Johnson, Young and Palmer showed plenty of speed, while Snodgrass, Armstrong and Garside can be reckoned upon to give strength to the local high school B team.

Oakland Defeats Portland In Fast Game

Horton Smith, Cragston, N. Y., defending champion and winner of the recent Savannah open by a one-stroke lead over Bobby Jones, had to be content with eighth place with a 297.

HIGH TRACK STARS WILL MEET U.C.

The Richmond union high school track team will be represented at the Alameda County Athletic league clash with the University of California fresh today at Berkeley by Schuyler Albert, Grover Johnson, Charlie Jackson and Roy Carson.

The four local boys have been selected by league authorities to represent Richmond high on the A. C. A. L. team today in competition with the California freshmen athletes.

Albert will compete in the mile grind, while Grover Johnson will run in the half mile event. Charlie Jackson, will take part in the pole vault today. Carson will heave the discus for the A. C. A. L. aggregation.

All four Richmond athletes have been building up great reputations in high school competition. All except Johnson have gained places in inter-school meets during this year and last season. Johnson is just a newcomer to Richmond, but he has quickly impressed the coaches with his speed and endurance in the half mile event.

Today's meet will be held on the University of California oval at ten o'clock.

San Pablans To Play Local Nine

The San Pablo Merchants are scheduled to clash with the McRacken nine today on the First street diamond at ten o'clock.

PRESIDENT OF FREE STATE RESIGNS

DUBLIN, March 28.—UP—President William T. Cosgrave and his government resigned today after being defeated in the free state parliament by two votes on a bill for increasing old-age pensions.

Eamonn De Valera's strong Fianna Fail party caused the defeat and its acting leader, Sean O'Kelly, announced the party was willing to form a new cabinet when parliament reconvenes Wednesday. O'Kelly said De Valera, who is now in Chicago, would be nominated to succeed Cosgrave.

There was every indication, however, that Cosgrave would retain a majority in the parliament or Dall Eireann. His Cumann Na Nagaidh party was defeated by a vote of 66 to 64 but several of its members were absent and 23 members of the Dial did not vote. Cosgrave's support was indicated by loud cheers when he announced that the defeat was due to the absence of some of his henchmen.

The Fianna Fail, with only 57 seats compared to 63 for the Cumann Na Nagaidh, would not be expected to establish an enduring government without a new election. Cosgrave's party had remained in office with the support of some of the minor parties which hold 33 of the 153 seats in the Dial.

Cosgrave's defeat came suddenly last night on the Fianna Fail's measure for an increase in certain old-age pensions, which the government opposed as unnecessary. Cosgrave telegraphed his resignation to Gov. Gen. James McNeill, who is abroad. He adjourned the Dial until Wednesday, when De Valera will be nominated.

De Valera's stormy career as rebel and irreconcilable foe of English rule has made him one of Ireland's outstanding figures. Recently he has been in the United States seeking funds for establishment of a republican newspaper. He has opposed the Irish Free State treaty with Britain, characterizing it as an instrument which makes Ireland a "puppet" in the hands of England.

She has resided in Richmond 23 years and is survived by her husband, E. P. Bryant, 535 Sixth street, and three children, Harry W. Bryant and Mrs. Adeline Glover of Richmond, and Mrs. Helen Miller of Glenns Ferry, Ida.

In honor of the birthday of C. P. Neckel, secretary of the Richmond Camp, Modern Woodmen of America, a social evening was held in the Redmen hall last night.

The meeting was attended by District Deputy Nolan of Hayward camp.

On the 14th of April, the Eastbay council of Modern Woodmen will hold its meeting at the Hotel Carquinez where dinner will be served.

Neckel is in charge of arrangements and has arranged an interesting program for the affair. It is expected that more than 50 visitors will be present.

SLAIN BEAUTY IDENTIFIED BY POLICE

was taken into custody at Phoenix and was arrested again on Sept. 30, 1928, at St. Joe, Missouri on similar charges.

Officials at Eureka removed the skin from four fingers of the victim and it was where the skin was photographed to give prints for identification.

Morrill said the girl was listed as having medium chestnut hair, light brown eyes and weighing 114 pounds.

IDENTIFICATION OF BEAUTY ACCEPTED

EUREKA, March 28.—UP—Identification of the beautiful young woman, whose body was found hidden behind a redwood log in a dense forest 50 miles north of here, as Mary McCoy was accepted by authorities here tonight and at least six other tentative identifications had been discarded.

The officials were notified by Clarence Morrill, chief of the State Bureau of Identification at Sacramento, that fingerprints determined that the victim was Miss McCoy.

Since the body was found Monday night there had been many persons offering to help solve the mystery but Miss McCoy's name had never been mentioned.

Officials were admittedly relieved by the news giving the victim's name and believed that their work in trying to solve the murder would proceed much faster.

The young woman had been shot through the head between six and eight weeks ago, the coroner said.

ONCE ARRESTED IN SOUTHWEST

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 28.—UP—Miss Mary McCoy of Malibu, Ark., whose body was found near Eureka, Calif., early this week, was arrested in this city July 3, 1927 according to local police records.

Charged with disturbing the peace, Miss McCoy was given a suspended sentence of 30 days.

Although she had been advised to get out of the city limits within 24 hours, she was re-arrested in Phoenix a short time later for dereliction of justice agents, local police said.

Officers here remembered Miss McCoy as an attractive Titan haired woman.

Hawks Tests Glider For Long Flight

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—UP—The trim glider Eaglet, in which Capt. Frank M. Hawks proposes to be towed by airplane from San Diego to New York, swooped to a graceful landing at the municipal airport here today after a test flight from San Diego.

Captain Hawks celebrated his 34th birthday by making the 100 mile trip in just short of two hours.

The glider and its tow plane, piloted by J. D. Jernigan, circled over a number of southern California towns on the flight. Jernigan will be at the controls again on the return flight to San Diego Saturday and on the transcontinental trip, which starts Sunday.

Captain Hawks, alone in the glider, cut loose from the tow plane at an altitude of 1500 feet and sailed easily to a stop in front of the airport administration building.

Several thousand persons, including Governor Clyde Reed, of Kansas, who is visiting here, greeted the two fliers. The parents of Captain Hawks, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hawks, of Hollywood, rushed to meet him when he stepped out of the glider cabin.

"The air was rather bumpy and the fog low, but outside of that we had no trouble," Hawks said, "We had wanted to reach an altitude of from 4000 to 5000 feet, but found it not feasible to fly above the fog blanket and never went higher than 2000 feet."

Carlson Rites Set For Monday

Funeral services for the late Gustav Carlson, who died in the Merritt hospital, Oakland recently, will be held Monday at 1:30 from the Wilson and Kratzler parlors. Interment will be at Sunset View cemetery.
